Welcome

This year, along with most of the UK, the Fete Committee have chosen to remember the end of World War One and this will be our theme today.

As you entered Otford I hope you noticed our amazing display of 39 poppies, featured on the grass of our village pond. If not, then don't miss them when you leave, as it is totally unique. Today we will not stop for a two-minute silence, but we hope that our visitors will spare a thought for those brave young men from Otford who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Once again we are delighted to have Elands Veterinary Clinic run our very popular and always oversubscribed Dog Show, do visit their registration area early, to avoid disappointment, as the number of entries in each category is limited.

We have a number of new musical acts this year, particularly inside the Memorial Hall, for you to listen to whilst enjoying afternoon tea and a well-earned rest. Whilst inside stop by and purchase raffle tickets, although we only have a handful of prizes to win, you will be pleased to hear that income raised from sales goes to help support Otford Associations so residents benefit.

Thank you for your support, we hope you have an enjoyable day.

Patty Chatterjee, Chair

Cover Design

Congratulations to Eden (Russell House School) for her winning entry in our annual cover design competition.

The theme was to acknowledge the end of World War One. The committee were very impressed with Eden's picture which showed the grey skies of war along with the sunshine and blue skies of peace.

Edward and William (also from Russell House School) were awarded runners-up for their entries.

You can see all three designs on our website www.otfordvillagefete.org.uk

2018 Fete theme – ‘The end of the Great War’

When Great Britain declared war on Germany in August 1914, Otford was a quiet, ‘tucked-away’ village nestling in the lush Kentish countryside. Most older boys and men worked on the land for a living, tending crops and looking after farm animals... so when war came to sleepy Otford it must have seemed like a great adventure to ‘hop across the Channel’ and fight the ‘Boche’.

Trenches, exploding shells, barbed wire, machine guns and mud, lots-and-lots of mud, soon put an end to any thoughts of war being an ‘adventure’. When the men from Otford finally returned there was an awful price to pay, 39 of their number had been killed and would never come back home!

In 1919, to remember and honour these men, and nearly a million others who came from towns and villages around Great Britain, the practice of a two minute silence has been observed. Throughout the realm people remained silent at 11am on the 11th day of the 11th month to remember those who had serve their country during war.

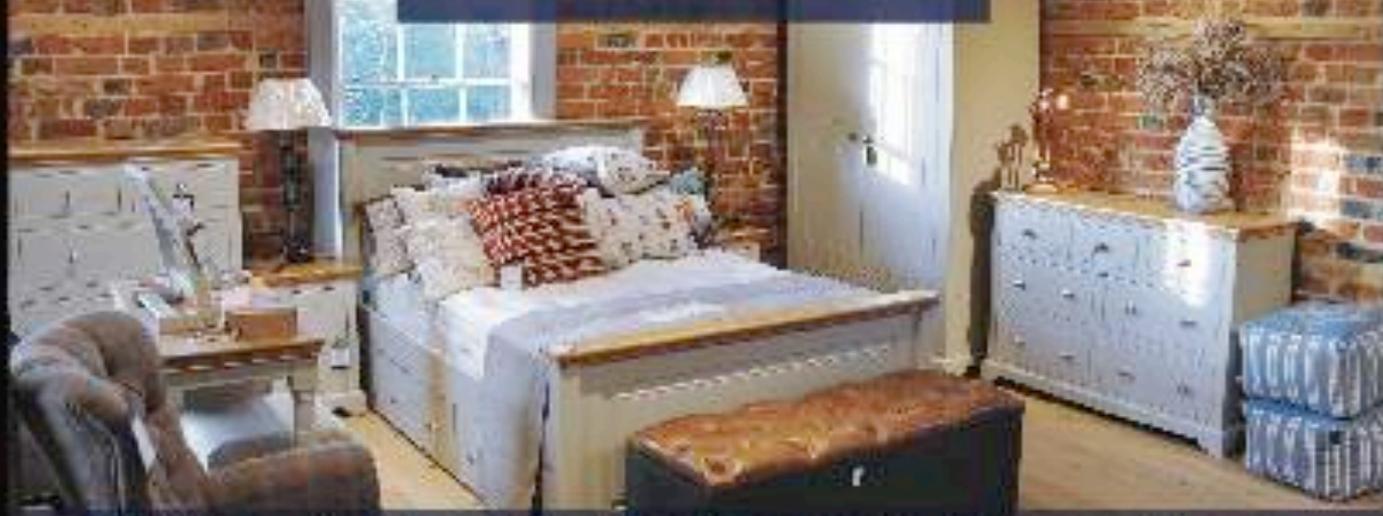

The year 2018 marks the centenary of the signing of the Armistice that brought the Great War to a close. The Otford Village Fete seeks to reflect the sacrifice of the Fallen and to commemorate ‘The Peace’ they won.

Otford has changed immeasurably over the course of a century, but the village would still be familiar to those men who left to fight. Their Victorian village school is still there (allbeit somewhat enlarged) and most of the houses they lived in still stand. All men would recognise the pond by the village green and parish church. It was the ‘hub’ of their world, just as it is for us today.

It is fitting therefore, that beside the pond they would have known and loved, we now choose to honour them. Each of the 39 poppies you see surrounding the pond represent someone from the village who never returned. A poppy flowers above the name and historic record of each of the fallen Otford soldiers and sailors. All comrades now linked together in a “Ring of Remembrance”.

Our sincere thanks go to Philip Clucas for the idea, development and construction of the ‘Otford Ring of Remembrance’. Thanks also to Jackie Howe for her extensive historical research, and to Fine & Country for their kind sponsorship.

This year, instead of their usual stall outside on the recreation ground, you will find them inside the Memorial Hall in "The Club Room". Many people will remember that, due to their popularity, they often sell out so for 2018 they will have a larger range, all equally delicious.

Their famous, and very popular, man-size sausage rolls made using meat from UK Farms, come in a range of flavours including chilli, apple and black pudding. In addition, they will be offering veggie scotch eggs, a selection of quiches as well and a range of vegan delights and a selection of moist, gooey gluten free brownies, vegan cakes and scones, something for every taste and diet.

OVER 50s FORUM WANTS YOU

Sevenoaks District Senior Action Forum (SDSAF) campaigns on issues of concern to the 50+ age group ensuring that their point of view is being heard by all those who make the decisions which affect older residents.

Joining the Forum involves no cost or commitments; but every extra member makes its voice that bit louder. It is independent, voluntary and non-commercial. In addition to members, over 100 individuals, groups and organisations get SDSAF newsletters; so all those people know what's going on in Forum members' minds.

SDSAF also informs members about what's going on, through its website and printed newsletters. Members get information e.g. about campaigns, health matters, or the latest scam – definitely no junk mail.

The Forum has grown to over 370 members, and is already being listened to. Successes so far include some improvements in transport to hospitals, lobbying for step free access to Swanley Station, involvement in developing dementia friendly communities, and winning a lottery grant to provide seven public access defibrillators. But since about 40,000 people 50+ live in the District, their voice can become a lot louder yet.

Becoming a member is not only welcome, it's important because so often big decisions are taken by younger decision makers who, if not advised by the people directly affected, do not understand the full impact of their actions.

A management committee member will gladly come to a meeting of your community organisation to explain – briefly! – about our forum.
